I must say, if it had not been for that omnipotent hand that guided me since you placed me here nine years ago, I could not have stood.

To the great women of this Congress: Let us bind our hearts and hands more closer together; let us know we will go with those ministers to win the battle of Education. In my conclusion: Let's tell our friends and our foes we cannot stop here, duty calls us higher, so we are going to the top. Humbly submitted,

VIOLA SMITH, President.
